

The Salmon Arts Council's Arts Academy Presents

Digital Photography Workshop Weekend with David Marx & Doug Johnson

Join us for a fun-filled weekend in Salmon, Idaho while building your skills and boosting your confidence as a photographer. Our weekend workshop provides the opportunity to learn and practice new techniques in a small-group environment. Topics covered include camera basics, sunset and night photography, techniques for close-up photography, composition, and a demonstration of digital image processing from start to finish.

Throughout the weekend you will receive instruction from our skilled, friendly experts. Learn tips and tricks directly from the pros and enjoy an evening field shoot while exploring a truly picturesque setting. Whether you've just picked up an SLR camera for the first time, or you are an experienced photographer looking for a few pointers, our photography weekend is the perfect opportunity to enhance your knowledge and take your images to a whole new level.

About Our Instructors

David Marx has an extensive knowledge of digital photography and is an Adobe Certified Expert in Photoshop and in Adobe Photoshop Lightroom. David is a talented instructor and his entertaining teaching style works for students of all skill levels. He has been teaching digital photography and image enhancement with Adobe Photoshop since 2002. In addition, David's sports and landscape images are often featured on the web and in outdoor sports publications.

In 2009, David Marx led digital photography programs for the Rocky Mountain School of Photography, the American Society of Media Photographers, the Western Reserve Photographic Society, and for Blackberry Farm. You can watch his Photoshop and Lightroom video tutorials at www.thelightroomlab.com and see his photography over at www.davidmarx.com.

Doug Johnson is from Colorado and now lives in Missoula, Montana. Before a life-changing pursuit of photographic art, he was an outdoor educator for over 20 years, passionately teaching people backcountry skills in navigation, mountaineering, avalanche awareness and wilderness first aid.

Since graduating from RMSP's Summer Intensive program in 1996, his work has covered many diverse projects in the documentary, commercial, fine art and educational fields. Assignments have taken him from documenting a coyote hunting contest in Wyoming and the last stages of a woman's life to the graffiti covered alleys and abandoned buildings of Denver. He is currently involved in an ongoing project called Art Music, which fuses the art of photography with live musical performance.

His educational philosophy is fun, intuitive and full of creative persistence. So, no matter where you are in your photographic journey, Doug balances the aesthetic with the technical to help you further express your unique vision in photography.
