Salmon Arts Council

Founded in 1978 by a few Salmon residents looking to fill the need for cultural awareness and diversity in this region, the Salmon Arts Council exists to foster the growth, awareness and education of the arts and humanities in rural Lemhi County, Idaho.

It has been our mission from the onset to strive to bring out the best in small-town community life by offering a vast array of artistic and cultural experiences for audiences of all ages to enjoy and learn from. From musical performances of all genres to our Arts Academy and community arts initiatives, the Salmon Arts Council aims to engage all residents of Lemhi County in the arts, thus engendering our motto: "Engaged in art, engaged in life."

Second Annual Community
Art Contest

THINK,

Create

We invite you to join us for the annual Visions of Idaho Community Art Contest, proudly presented by the Salmon Arts Council. Our event celebrates the diversity of our community through various art forms. Entry into the contest is free, and each category boasts prizes. As an art enthusiast, you will relish the opportunity to connect with other artists and experience the joy of creativity. Selected artworks will be displayed at the Salmon Library from February 5th-14th, and judges, as well as the general public, can vote for their preferred pieces. Don't miss out on showcasing your talent and exploring the wide array of art created in our community.

This year's theme is "when I see the mountains" - The majestic Beaverhead and Lemhi Mountain Ranges stand watch over us, shaping our daily lives, and providing a sanctuary that we call home. We encourage you to draw inspiration from these mountains and create artwork that captures the essence of their allure and the call they have on our lives.
